

For many years reading has been regarded as an important process for acquiring knowledge. It improves critical thinking, vocabulary skills, memory, concentration and similar aspects which are important for everyday life.

But since the last few years reading habits have been widely impacted by technological change, mostly derived by the ongoing trend of using social media.

So, our study tries to explore the current reading habits among individuals across different Ages, Social-group, Religion, Gender.

Contributors:

Sabir Ahamed

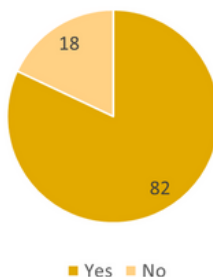

Ashin Chakraborty

Annay De

Author: Atri Kumar Roy

A structured questionnaire was designed to collect data, stable enough for our study using the primary survey method. A total of 4311 samples were collected offline.

Percentage of People who love to Read

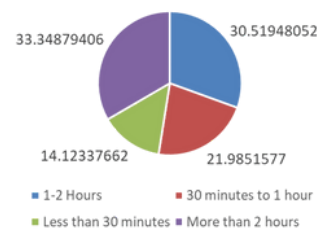

Gender Composition

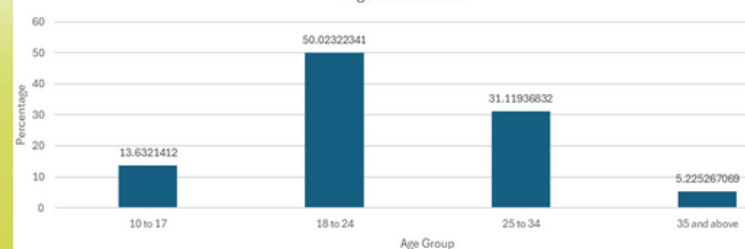

Reading Frequency Percentage

Time Spend on Social Media

Age Distribution

Reading Habits Study

+91 8585859971

contact@sabarinstitute.org

44/1/A, Mansatala Lane,
Khiderpore, Kolkata - 700023

sabarinstitute.org

Key Findings

1. Men Spend More Time on Social Media than Women Similar to a report published in 2017.

2. Students Spend More Time on Social Media than Non-Student.

3. Students love to read Fiction, Literature and poetry the most, while non Students Sports, Entertainment and fiction. Most Male read Sports, entertainment and Fiction while for Female it is Academic, Fiction and Literature. For people who belong to age 0 to 17 most people read Poetry, Fiction and Academic. For the age group 18 to 24 people read Fiction, Literature and Entertainment. For the age group 25 to 34 people read Sports, Entertainment and Literature and People who are 35 and above read Sports, Fiction and Religious.

4. Among Daily readers 92% reported that their attention has improved.

